

Luna

Blurb

A fairy princess. A prophecy made at birth. A typical fairy story.

But Luna is no typical fairy princess. She didn't believe in the prophecy (or so she said) and did everything she could to carve her own path in life.

Fate had its own path for her, though, and little did she know that every step she took and every challenge she faced brought her one step closer to fulfilling the prophecy she fought so hard against. Would Luna be able to make her own way or would fate do as it pleased? Follow her on her journey as she learns for herself just how persistent fate can be
