

Death: An Autobiography

Blurb

Death was never the enemy... only a servant of God's will.

"I met Death twice - and lived to tell his story."

After a devastating motorcycle accident left Lonnie Wayne Gee in a fifteen-day coma, he crossed the veil between life and eternity. There, he encountered Death - not as a grim reaper of terror, but as a radiant spirit created by God to fulfil a divine purpose.

In this extraordinary spiritual narrative, Death himself tells the untold story of existence - from the Garden of Eden to Noah's flood, from Abraham's sacrifice to the birth of Christ. Through divine dialogue and heavenly revelation, readers journey through Scripture in a way never imagined before: through the eyes of Death.

Blending memoir, biblical history, and Christian revelation, Death: An Autobiography offers a bold re-examination of life, suffering, judgment, Heaven, and Hell. It challenges what we think we know about mortality and reveals a powerful truth:

Death is not the villain of the story.

He is a guide in God's eternal plan.
