

We Are The Time So, Why Do We Wait?

Blurb

The world needs words to thrive, humans need communication to build connection. Poetry is dying when it used to be a tool for inspiration, courage, and hope. This collection is meant to invoke the deepest parts of you, because my message is for you. My words in this collection are here for you to put into sentences. It's a journey of emotion, importance, and growth. This book picked you, because my words are meant for everyone. We are the time, so why do we wait?
